

Where are County 911 Call Centers Located Across New York State?

The Telecommunications Service Priority Program, established by the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) in 1988, aims to identify key communications infrastructure that, in the event of a disaster, should be given special priority during the reconstruction process. Currently administered by the Department of Homeland Security (DHS), this program has registered less than ten percent of all 911 call centers nationally, meaning one of the most important disaster response mechanisms available to the public could remain inoperable for an extended period of time in the event of a calamity. Senator Schumer is urging all 911 centers across New York State to sign-up for the DHS program. For a county-by-county listing of 911 centers in your area, please see the following report.
